

violent programming is teaching children two things: that violence is okay and that its damage is not permanent.